SONIC YOUTH

I lived on these tacos when I was a poor struggling art student in LA. They're nice and light for hot weather dining. My fantasy is they're not as fattening as a regular tuna sandwich, because I always eat too many. See ya, Kim (Gordon, of Sonic Youth, duh)

TUNA TACOS CULVER CITY

1 can chunk white dolphin-safe tuna in springwater
1 glob mayo (as you like it)
1 green onion (scallion) chopped
½ lemon squeezed
1 or 2 finely chopped jalapenos or small green chilies
4 as-fresh-as-you-can-find corn tortillas
butter
watercress

Mix tuna, mayo, lemon, onion and chilies in a bowl. Sprinkle water on tortillas, then heat one at a time on open low flame (gas stove only) or in a skillet, 15 to 30 seconds on each side. Remove while still soft and smear with butter. Put tuna in middle, top with sprigs of watercress, fold and chow.

PS. The banana-Nilla Wafer sandwiches (right) are Thurston's idea of food. Recipe: Slice banana and put between two Nilla Wafers.
